

Homework week commencing 30th October 2023

Well done for all your work on addition and subtraction! You are doing great!

I'm proud of all the stories you have written the last week!

Today, (Monday 30th October), you will find a copy of your story in your bookbag for you to take home. Therefore, for this week's homework, I would like you to type up the story that you have worked so hard on in class and with the help of an adult, submit it on BBC's website:

Remember, your story can be less than 500 words, but cannot exceed that wordcount. Once you type it, the word count will be done for you.

The deadline for submission is 10th November.

I hope we get as many finalists as possible! All the best!
