

Homework week commencing 6th September 2021

Well done for your work on muscles this week; you did great! Make sure that you collect any house points that I might have given you for your work. We will continue with our science work on our body this week, so we will be labelling the different bones in our bodies. Any questions, please don't hesitate to contact me via email.

Weekly spelling tests will start this week, so please practise your words on a regular basis. It will have a good impact on your writing!

Mental Maths tests will start later in the term.

Kind regards,

Mrs Padam
